What Participants Are Saying About Mike:

"Mike is a master of the subject of respect and inclusion. He tackles difficult subjects directly with tact and understanding... providing easy to use tools and techniques to improve an organization's internal relationships. Mike's process has a wonderful payback financially as well as being a means to greatly improve the corporate climate."

Andrew Warrington, President, United Conveyor Corporation

"Informative! Mike provided suggestions on what to say, rather than just telling you what not to do. I was the recipient of some good feedback from a coworker because you moved her."

Jodi Fraser, Assistant to Vice President, Administration & Finance at University of Nevada, Reno

"Mike, thanks for the insightful, provocative, and actionable talk. Already sharing the 9 disrespectful behaviors and how to transform them to respectful ones...and already got to practice not being the fixer."

Kristin DeFife, Sr Vice President and Head of US Operations at Ajinomoto Bio-Pharma Services

"When it comes to helping us build a culture of respect, Mike Domitrz is our go-to expert. His friendly, conversational, and interactive style is very effective and his messaging resonates and stays with people for a long time afterwards."

David J. Phillips, Executive VP & CFO at New World Symphony

"Year after year, we bring in world-class speakers for our members. Mike Domitrz set the bar for our future speakers to strive for."

Philip MacDougall, Executive Director, WINevada
